SUMMARY: This letter provides information regarding changes in the 1991-92 FISAP

Dear Financial Aid Administrator:

There are some changes to the forthcoming 1989-90 Fiscal Operations Report/1991-92 Application to Participate (FISAP) in the Perkins Loan, Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG), and College Work-Study (CWS) programs. We are herein advising you of those changes in advance of distribution of the form in late July. Enclosed is a draft copy of the new FISAP form.

Listed below are the major changes in the FISAP form for 1991-92 and other pertinent information:

Information About the FISAP

Institutions will automatically receive the Electronic FISAP materials in late July. However, exceptions will be granted to those that can not meet the requirements of filing a FISAP electronically. In order to be granted an exception, you must secure written permission from the Department of Education (ED). For further instructions, refer to the separate "Dear Colleague" letter regarding the Electronic FISAP which you may already have received.

We suggest that you begin making the necessary changes to your data collection systems now to avoid any last minute problems in meeting the FISAP filing deadline, which will be September 7, 1990, if you have requested and received a waiver to file a paper FISAP, or September 28, 1990, for Electronic FISAPS.

All FISAP submissions must be sent to one address, that of ED's contractor in Silver Spring, Maryland. The complete address will be specified prominently in the FISAP materials.

Part I - Identifying Information, Certifications and Warning

Part II - Application to Participate

No major changes.

Part III - Perkins Loan Program

Section A - Fiscal Report (Cumulative) as of June 30, 1990

We anticipate issuing reimbursements for 1988-89 Teacher/Military/Volunteer Service Cancellations in July of 1990. You are not to report these funds as receivables on your 1989-90 Perkins Loan Fiscal Operations Report.

Section B - Fund Activity (Annual) During the 1989-90 Award Year (July 1, 1989 through June 30, 1990)

The Perkins Loan Federal Capital Contribution (FCC) for any award year may not be expended after June 30 of that year. Therefore, an institution may not withdraw any 1989-90 FCC from its ED Payment Management System (PMS) account after June 30, 1990. An expenditure of Perkins Loan FCC is incurred upon withdrawal of such funds from PMS and its deposit by the institution into its Perkins Loan Fund cash-on-hand account. That portion of an institution's 1989-90 adjusted FCC allocation not requested or withdrawn from PMS by June 30, 1990, must be reported in Line 2 for our ultimate recovery.

Section C - Cumulative Repayment Information as of June 30, 1990

Effective February 17, 1989, ED ceased all collection efforts on defaulted National Defense/Direct Student Loan (NDSL) accounts that were "referred" to ED during the period August 15, 1979 through June 30, 1981. Therefore, all accounts previously designated as "referred" have been officially converted to assignments or the institution has resumed responsibility for the collection of those loans. Consequently, Section C, Line 2 in the previous edition of the Perkins Loan Program Fiscal Operations Report has been eliminated and the remaining line items renumbered. Those loans which have been converted to assigned loans must be reported on the new Line 2 and any accounts for which the institution resumed accountability must be reflected in the appropriate status category of Section C of the report.

Part IV - Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG) Program

There are several aspects of the SEOG Program that affect the preparation of your 1989-90 Fiscal Operations Report and may also require further changes in your administration of the program for the 1990-91 award period. These are as follows:

- a. Federal/Institutional Share Requirements for the SEOG Program - For the award period July 1, 1989 through June 30, 1990, the institutional share of SEOG awards made by an institution must be 5 percent of such awards. (For the 1990-91 award period, the institutional share is increased to 10 percent and the Federal share is decreased to 90 percent.) The institution is required to provide the non-Federal share from its own resources which may include institutional grants and scholarships, tuition or fee waivers, state scholarships, or foundation or other charitable organization funds.

As indicated in a previous "Dear Colleague" letter, the appropriate matching can be accomplished by one of three methods. In the following discussion of the three methods, it should be noted that, in order to meet the definition of an "SEOG recipient," some portion of the grant awarded a student must have come from the SEOG Federal monies. Also, at any point in time during the award period, when the SEOG awards are disbursed, the required match must have been accomplished, i.e., the institution's own resources (which are the non-Federal share) must have been disbursed prior to or at the time the Federal monies are disbursed. The three methods are:

- (1) Individual SEOG recipient basis - In this situation, the institution would provide its share to an individual SEOG recipient together with the Federal share, i.e., each student's total SEOG award would consist of 5 percent institutional resources and 95 percent Federal monies for the 1989-90 award period and 10 percent institutional resources and 90 percent Federal monies for the 1990-91 award period.
- (2) Aggregate basis - In this situation, the institution would ensure that the sum of all SEOG awards to students in the 1989-90 award period would consist of 5 percent institutional resources and 95 percent Federal SEOG monies (10 percent and 90 percent from the respective institutional and Federal sources for the 1990-91 award year). For example, if the total SEOG awards to students in the 1989-90 award year were $50,000, the institution would have had to ensure that $47,500 was from Federal SEOG monies and $2,500 was from institutional resources. In this example, even though there were at least thirteen SEOG recipients, the entire $2,500 institutional matching resource requirement could be met by the awarding of a $2,500 institutional resource to only one SEOG recipient. This is true for all cases.

- (3) Fund specific basis - In this situation, the institution could establish an "SEOG fund" into which it deposits SEOG Federal funds together with the required institutional share. Awards to SEOG recipients would then be made from the "fund."
- b. Reporting SEOG Expenditures - Reporting SEOG award expenditures in the Fiscal Operations Report (for the 1989-90 award period) is accomplished by entering the SEOG awards data in Part IV, Section C, line 5 (Total SEOG Disbursements to Students), the required institutional share in line 6 (Institutional Share of Disbursements to Students), and the appropriate Federal share in line 7 (Federal Share of SEOG Disbursements to Students) unless the institution has been granted a waiver; in such case, line 5 will equal line 7.
- c. Administrative Cost Allowance - In calculating the institution's administrative cost allowance for the 1989-90 award period, the institution is to include in its calculation the full amount of SEOG awards (i.e., the required 5 percent institutional portion plus the 95 percent Federal share). If the Department has granted your institution a waiver of its required institutional share under the Strengthening Institutions Program (34 CFR Part 607) or the Strengthening Historically Black Colleges and Universities Program (34 CFR Part 608), your institution's administrative cost allowance may be calculated on only the full Federal portion.

Part V - College Work Study (CWS) Program

Per the Federal regulations of December 1, 1987, effective with the 1989-90 award period and subsequent award periods, an institution may no longer add any CWS funds carried forward into the next year or carried back to the previous year to the total CWS allocation, when determining the maximum percent of available funds that may be used in 1989-90 for the following purposes:

- (1) Transfer of CWS funds to SEOG;
- (2) Federal share of earnings in private for-profit sector employment; •
- (3) Community Service Learning (CSL) earnings at a 90 percent Federal share; and
- (4) Regular or CSL Job Location and Development Programs.

For example, CWS funds carried forward into 1989-90 from 1988-89 or carried back into 1989-90 from 1990-91, may not be added to the 1989-90 total CWS allocation. The maximum amount usable for each of the four purposes listed above is the appropriate percentage of the total of an institution's 1989-90 original CWS allocation plus any supplemental 1989-90 CWS allocation.

Please note the changes in the percentage of Federal share of total earned compensation for the 1989-90 award year. The maximum Federal share in Line 13(a) has been changed from 80 percent to 75 percent, and the maximum Federal share in Line 13(b) has been changed from 60 percent to 55 percent. The Community Service Learning Program (CSLP), Line 13(c), maximum Federal share remains the same. Only if the institution has an approved waiver of the institutional share may the entries in Lines 13(a) and (c) exceed the maximum 75 percent and 90 percent Federal shares, respectively. The entry in Line 13(b) may never exceed 55 percent.

Line 23 from last year's report, Federal Share of JLD Program Expenditures, has been eliminated since it duplicated Line 16 and the remaining items have been renumbered.

Part VI - Program Summary

No major change.

SPECIAL NOTE:

Eligible Aid Applicant Grid Information (FISAP, Part II, Section E) - For an award year or period of enrollment that began on or after July 1, 1988, an institution must use the Congressional Methodology (CM) to determine an expected family contribution (EFC) for the Campus-Based programs. This methodology is detailed in Part F - Need Analysis of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended.

As always, you must ensure that the taxable and nontaxable income used in computing the expected family contribution for an eligible aid applicant is reflected. However, when you place eligible aid applicants in the grid you must consider all taxable and nontaxable income used in the methodology. Previously a dependent student's taxable and nontaxable income was not used in calculating the EFC and, therefore, in determining grid placement. In completing the grid where the CM provides for consideration of base-year income, as in the case of both dependent and independent students, total family taxable and nontaxable base-year income must be used in placing the student in the grid. Likewise, where the CM provides for consideration of projected year income, as in the case of a dislocated worker, that income must be used in determining grid placement.

Perkins Loan Default Rate

The maximum default rate for receipt of a Perkins Loan 1991-92 Federal capital contribution is 15 percent.

New Federal/Institutional Share Requirements for the SEOG and CWS Programs

For the award year July 1, 1990, through June 30, 1991:

- (a) The Federal share of total awards made by an institution in the SEOG program is decreased to 90 percent; and
- (b) The maximum Federal shares in the CWS program are 90 percent for CSLP earned compensation, 50 percent for private (for-profit) earned compensation, and 70 percent for the remaining categories of earned compensation.
